Details and Programme

Purpose of the PDW

The PDW is designed to help authors to develop their manuscripts to increase the publication potential in top-tier academic journals. The workshop offers a collaborative platform for researchers to engage with expert scholars, providing critical and constructive feedback throughout various stages of the development process.

Call for Submissions

We welcome submissions of full papers or extended abstracts (2,500–3,000 words). Abstracts should clearly detail the Principal Topic, Method, and Results. Submissions must focus on strategy-related research and should represent work-in-progress that has not yet been submitted to an academic journal.

Please submit your work to estrategia.acede@gmail.com

The organizing committee will review all proposals and notify authors of their decision by June 2026.

Participants will present their research in either a poster or presentation format, followed by a Q&A session. All submissions will be shared with attendees and keynote speakers. Our panel of distinguished international experts will offer useful feedback and interesting suggestions to help authors to prepare the manuscript for the submission to leading academic journals.
